KemperSports, perhaps best known for its golf management operations, is driving (pardon the pun) its operations management expertise into the world of motorsports as the management and sales partner of the Circuit of the Northwest, a premier racing destination near Seattle. Through this new partnership, KemperSports will lead membership sales and hospitality management for the 232-acre, 2.66 mile racing circuit and private club experience set among the natural terrain of the Olympic Mountain Range.

Designed by the world-renowned German Formula One driver and road course architect Hermann Tilke, the Circuit of the Northwest feature dining facilities, an exercise center, spa, meditation facilities, airstrip, member lounge, member-only speakeasy, meeting spaces and road course simulators. The destination, which is projected to open in 2021, will also be home to a technology lab, private garages, autominiiums and STEM education center to further science, technology, engineering and mathematics curriculum through motorsports.
